A collection of craft supplies is arranged on a pink background with white polka dots. On the left is a large, clear glass jar with a blue lid. To its right is a container of silver glitter labeled 'Glitter' and 'Just Add Glue!'. Further right is a bottle of Mod Podge, labeled 'MOD PODGE MATTE-MAT-MAT' and 'Waterbase sealer, glue & finish'. Below the Mod Podge is a package of 'Confetti' featuring red, white, and black swirl patterns. In the foreground, a black foam brush with a wooden handle lies horizontally.

STEP 1: Pour a small amount of Mod Podge into your jar(s) coating it well with a sponge paint brush. Turn the jar upside down for about 30 minutes to let any extra glue drip out. Be sure not to leave it upside down too long, you don't want the glue to dry.

STEP 2: Sprinkle your confetti inside the jar. Turn the jar to coat it evenly.

The collage illustrates the process of creating a decorative jar. The main image on the left shows the final product: a glass jar covered in a silver glittery material, decorated with pink and white polka-dot ribbon, and featuring a wooden tag with the word 'LOVE' on it. The top right image shows the supplies needed: a glass jar, a container of glitter, a bottle of Mod Podge Matte Medium, and a package of pink and white confetti. The bottom right image shows the jar being filled with confetti and then covered with a layer of glitter. The bottom left image shows the jar being covered with a layer of glitter. Confetti Mason Jars

Three glass jars of different sizes are decorated with silver glitter, red hearts, and red ribbons. The largest jar in the background has a tag that says "hugs & kisses". The jars are set against a red and white chevron background. The foreground jars are also decorated with red hearts and ribbons. A red ribbon with white hearts is tied around the neck of the largest jar. The jars are placed on a white surface with scattered red hearts. The background is a red and white chevron pattern. The overall theme is Valentine's Day.
